Graduate School of Arts & Social Sciences (GSASS)
2013-14 Dean's Merit Scholarship
for Intercultural Relations Master's Degree Candidates

What is the GSASS Dean's Merit Scholarship?

The Graduate School of Arts & Social Sciences Dean's Merit Scholarship award is a one-time scholarship for newly-enrolling students in the Master's program demonstrating exceptional merit.
Recipients of the Merit Scholarship should have a strong academic background, demonstrated leadership skills, and a commitment to the field of education, the arts, social services, or the environment.

Scholarship Statement

The Graduate School of Arts & Social Sciences is dedicated to the fundamental principle that the role of higher education is to develop and nurture a creative, civil, and life-sustaining society. In support of this mission, our programs seek to recruit, encourage, and support students who enrich our learning communities with their community or volunteer experiences; professional experiences; life experiences; strong academic achievement; leadership qualities; artistic abilities; and potential to be student ambassadors and later alumni ambassadors.

The Dean's Merit Scholarship Committee encourages the application of candidates who embody any number of the qualities mentioned above. The Committee and the Graduate School of Arts & Social Sciences encourage the application of all candidates without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, mental or physical disability or veteran status in the administration of its education policies and scholarship.
